Golf Course Superintendent: Sinton Municipal Golf Course Sinton, Texas

Golf Course Background:

The Association of the Sinton Municipal Golf Course is looking to hire a golf course superintendent. The ideal candidate would enjoy playing golf, and be willing to play a few days of the week and on weekends. Most importantly, we are looking for someone who will take pride in the Sinton Municipal Golf Course looking and playing at its very best.

Sinton Golf Association was established in 1957. The property was left to the Association by Rob Welder. The big oak trees, flat landscape, and the abundance of irrigation well water, offered the perfect environment for its intended purpose. The first nine holes of the club was apparently built in 1956. J. Carol Weaver of Weaver Construction built most of the course, along with a number of future members. Weaver was considered a Texas legend, as he was thought to be the best golfer in the area at the time even playing against Sam Sneed once. In 1968, the Association added the back nine, which was designed and built by a European golfer.

The "Heart of the Club" is a daily Pro Am, which goes back as far as any member can recollect. Every day of the week, except on Tuesday when the course is closed, at noon, there is a tournament. The tournament consists of mostly retirees and shift workers. The tournament may have 12-40 players depending on the weather and the day of the week. The games have changed over the years but the Pro Am is a constant here at Sinton Municipal Golf Course.

The course also prides itself in putting together some big tournaments, as well as and having some fairly stiff competition, coupled with a lot of fun and comradery.

Job Overview:

The ideal hire will be responsible for operation of the golf course operation and maintenance. The responsibilities include: turf grass/plant material maintenance programs, property/asset management, personnel management, budget/forecasting, financial management, member relations, scheduling/maintenance or irrigation systems, pesticide applications, related recordings, and compliance of regulatory issues. The Golf Course Superintendent works to create an environment where staff is involved and enthusiastic through open communications and respect for themselves, members, guests, and the property.

Basic Functions:

- Responsible for all phases of golf maintenance and agronomic operations, cost control, and personnel.

Guyan Golf & Country Club is looking for a Golf Course Superintendent with strong agronomic and leadership skills with a passion for providing exceptional golfing conditions.

GUYAN GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB

The beautiful Guyan Golf & Country Club that exists today in scenic Huntington, West Virginia, is a tribute to the resourcefulness and courage of its members. Guyan is a club that rose from the tragedy of fire on two occasions, in 1932, and again in 1954. Exemplifying the faith of its founders, Guyan soon rose again. The membership set about the task of erecting a new clubhouse. It was built and opened less than a year and a half later. The speed with which the new building was planned, designed, and made a reality stands as an accolade to the character of Guyan's membership.

Arnold Browning was with Guyan for 50 years as caddie master and club maker and then as head golf professional. Guyan was also the home club of William “Bill” Campbell, Past President of the United States Golf Association.

The Guyan Golf Course was built in 1922 in the east section of Huntington. The course is a Herbert Strong Design par 71 course. The course is a transition zone golf course with Bermuda fairways, Bent grass greens, and Bermuda and Bent tees. There is a spring and fall aerification. The course is open for golf 12 months per year, weather permitting.

The course has also hosted several West Virginia Opens. The first, in 1936, was won by Sam Snead, who also qualified for his first U.S. Open at the course.

Located in the Tri-State region, Huntington sits on the mid-section of the scenic and historic Ohio River at the point where West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky meet. The city is home to 49,177 citizens and serves a Tri-State area of 365,000.
