Irrigation Technician

In 2014, The Brickman Group and ValleyCrest joined forces to create BrightView, a landscape services company designed to deliver world-class landscape architecture, construction, maintenance, and everything in between. We're on the path to blending our organizations onto one powerhouse with a new name and a fresh direction.

You are able to foresee potential problems and have the specialty skills needed to solve them.

Careful planning and the ability to anticipate issues are qualities which Brickman and ValleyCrest particularly values. People with your mindset and proactive work-style, are just what our customers expect.

In this position, you'll monitor and test new installations, troubleshoot and repair problems, observe pipe and valve placements, and evaluate start-ups, winterization and overall operation of the irrigation system. You'll also conduct and record detailed inspections and plan/execute upgrades of client systems.

Along with supervisory skills and your proactive manner, we require 1-3 years of productive experience in the installation, inspection and repair of irrigation systems. A valid driver's license and good knowledge of trenchers, multi-meters, wire locators, ditchers and pipe sizing are also essential. Bilingual in Spanish and ability to create and read site map colored charts/legends is a plus.

You'd be surprised what grows when you put people first. Join the 22,000+ team members who make an impact and inspire one another every day! Brickman/ValleyCrest is committed to develop and reward our diverse workforce with trust, honesty, respect, teamwork, excellence and an overall culture of caring.

We are drug free and an EOE by choice.
